

A. Practice Research Impact, Translation & Influence

Ilse Julkunen & Lynette Joubert

This thematic group focuses on the complexities of making an impact through the direct translation of research findings on practice and policy. The Practice Collaborative offers an open and collegial discussion space for members to share their experiences, their challenges, successes, as well as failures. The group has organised online seminars and interesting presentations since the Melbourne conference. We welcome new members.

We hope with this Pre-conference program to attract debate and discussion on the experience of developing 'new knowledge' in social work practice research, including increased understanding of what 'impact' and the translation of practice research findings back into practice really involves. We will start with a short introduction and open discussion and move on to presentations to inspire further knowledge development in the field.

Preliminary Program

9 – 10	Introduction to the complexities of Impact and Influence <ul style="list-style-type: none">- A dialogue with Ilse and Lynette- Group exercise on impact and implementation in practice research
10 – 10.30	Navigating Complexities in Practice results to Practice Christa Fouché
10.30 – 11	Pod cast discussions on Impact and Influence Martin Webber
11-11.30	A conversation on Practice Research and Outcomes in PhD studies
11.30 -12	Where do we go from here?